

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

EDITOR'S PREFACE.

THE present volume is the first of a series of elementary Latin books in preparation by Dr. W. Smith, Editor of the Dictionary of Biography and Mythology, of Greek and Roman Antiquities, etc. The plan, object, and sources of the work are fully set forth in the Author's Preface subjoined. It has one great merit of a school-book designed for beginners—brevity. The essentials of Grammar are given without unnecessary detail or minute exceptions. At the age at which Latin is usually begun the memory is much more active and developed than the reasoning faculties; the Author has therefore judiciously preferred the synthetic to the analytic method. Exercises in double translation are given after each Declension and Conjugation, to impress the forms thus learned more firmly on the memory.

In revising the work the Editor has made a few alterations and additions, which he trusts may be found to be improvements. As it is essential for an accurate knowledge of Latin to know the quantities of syllables, whatever system of pronunciation may be preferred by the teacher, the Editor has introduced, from the first lesson, the simpler and more comprehensive rules of Prosody. He has added also paradigms of the more frequently-recurring Greek nouns of the First, Second, and Third Declensions, and a few pages of continuous narrative taken from Woodford's Epitome of Cæsar, in the exact words of the author, but with the complex sentences broken up, and the difficult parenthetical clauses omitted. The selection extends from the beginning of Cæsar to the end of the Helvetian Campaign.

In the original work the Vocabularies were thrown together at the end of the Second Part, but in this edition they have been placed before the Exercises to which they respectively belong; there is great convenience in this arrangement, and, as the pupil is expected to learn the Vocabulary by heart, it can not afford him any improper assistance, especially as words once given are not repeated in subsequent Vocabularies.

A Second Part, containing the remainder of Woodford's simplified Cæsar, and L'Homond's "Viri Romæ" is in preparation as a Supplement to the present volume, furnishing, it is believed, sufficient reading matter to enable the pupil to enter, with a competent supply of words and experience in translation, upon the profitable study of Cæsar or Virgil.

THE following work is the first of a short series which the writer has undertaken with the view of facilitating the study of the Latin language. It is the result of many years' practical teaching, and seeks to combine the advantages of the older and more modern methods of instruction. While boys are sometimes compelled to commit to memory all the grammatical forms and syntactical rules without having their knowledge tested by any practical application in the construction of sentences, so that they frequently forget the former part of the Grammar by the time they have finished the latter, they are in other cases burdened by a large number of explanations and cautions, and by complicated rules for the formation of cases and other inflectional forms. The latter error is almost as grave as the former in the case of young boys, as they are thus taught analytically what ought to be first learned synthetically.

The main object of this work is to enable a beginner to fix the Declensions and Conjugations thoroughly in his memory, to learn their usage by constructing simple sentences as soon as he commences the study of the language, and to accumulate gradually a stock of useful words. It is divided into two parts :

I. The first part contains the Grammatical Forms, with Exercises upon all the inflections, in which the simple rules of syntax are introduced, as they are required for the formation of sentences.

II. The second part contains an explanation of some of the more important idioms of the language, such as the construction of the Accusative Case and the Infinitive Mood, of the Ablative Absolute, of the Gerund and Gerundive, etc., exemplified by Exercises upon each construction. The Vocabulary relating to each Exercise is [prefixed to the Exercise], and Alphabetical Indices of the Latin and English words in the Vocabularies are [given at the end of the volume].

The work thus contains Grammar, Delectus, and Exercise-book, with Vocabularies, and consequently presents in one book all that the pupil will require for some time in his study of the language. It is confidently believed that a boy who has gone carefully through the work will have acquired a sound knowledge of the chief grammatical forms, and of the most important syntactical rules, and will thus be prepared to enter upon the systematic study of a larger Grammar with advantage and profit.

In the Grammar the writer has deviated as little as possible from the usual arrangement of the Declensions and Conjugations, and only when some clear and positive advantage was to be gained. Thus, in the Third Declension, he has introduced a simpler and easier classification, according to the final letter of the stem,* instead of the one in the ordinary grammars, which occasions boys so much difficulty and perplexity.

In using the book, it is suggested that the pupil should be required to learn by heart the Vocabulary belonging to each Exercise; that he should then read over the Exercise vivâ voce in the class, the master giving such explanations as he may deem necessary; and that then, but not till then, the pupil should write down what he has previously read in class. It should be the aim of the master to prevent the pupil, as far as possible, from committing mistakes to writing, as experience has shown that the original mistake, when fixed in the memory by means of writing, is often remembered long after the correction has been forgotten.

* The Stem must be distinguished from the Root. The Root is that part of the word which remains after taking away the Suffix; the Stem is that part of the word which remains after taking away the Inflections; thus, in agilis, agili is the Stem of the Adjective, but ag is the Root.

In drawing up the Exercises, the writer has derived assistance from the following books, all of which are used in the public schools of Germany:

Kühner, Lateinische Vorschule, Hannover, 1858.

Spiess, Uebungsbuch zum Uebersetzen aus dem Lateinischen in's Deutsche und aus dem Deutschen in's Lateinische, Essen, 1858.

Jacobs and Döring, Lateinisches Elementarbuch, Jena, 1856.

Bleske, Elementarbuch der Lateinischen Sprache, Hannover, 1858.

Bonnell, Uebungstücke zum Uebersetzen aus dem Lateinischen in's Deutsche für die ersten Anfänger, Berlin, 1854.

Ellendt, Lateinisches Lesebuch für die untersten Klassen der Gymnasien, Königsberg, 1857.

Gedike, Lateinisches Lesebuch, Berlin, 1857.

He has also to acknowledge his obligations to Mr. T. D. Hall, M.A., for the correction of the proofs and for many valuable suggestions.

It is right to state that the whole of this work was written and the greater part of it printed before the publication of Mr. Hutton's "Introduction to the Study of Greek," the plan of which is very similar to that of the present book.

PART I.

GRAMMATICAL FORMS.

---

I.—THE ALPHABET. QUANTITY. GENDERS. PARTS OF SPEECH. SUBSTANTIVES.

1. Alphabet.—The Latin Alphabet consists of 25 letters, the same as the English without W.

A, B, C, D, E, F, G, H, I, J, K, L, M, N, O, P, a, b, c, d, e, f, g, h, i, j, k, l, m, n, o, p,
Q, R, S, T, U, V, X, Y, Z.
q, r, s, t, u, v, x, y, z.

Of these y and z were used only in words introduced from Greek; k is found only before a, and q only before u.

The letters are divided into Vowels and Consonants.

The Vowels are a, e, i, o, u, y. The remaining letters are Consonants; of these

l, m, n, r, are called liquids,

s is called a sibilant,

x and z are double letters, and the rest are called mutes.

A syllable consists of one or more letters pronounced in one breath.

Two vowels joined in one syllable make a Diphthong; the Diphthongs are ae, oe, au, which are in common use, and eu, ei, ui, which occur in only a few words.

2. Quantity.—Quantity is used to denote the quicker or slower pronunciation of a syllable.

A syllable is considered short or long as its vowel is short or long.

A Long Syllable has the mark (˘) over the vowel. A Short Syllable has the mark (˙) over the vowel. A syllable marked thus (˘) is sometimes long, sometimes short.

A vowel may be

{	Short by nature; as ānōr .
	Long by nature; as vērū s.
	Short by position (before another vowel); as pius .
	Long by position (before two consonants or a double consonant); as pērdix .

3. Genders.—There are three Genders:

Masculine, Feminine, and Neuter.

Substantives which are either Masculine or Feminine are called Common.

[See general Rules for Gender on page 112.]

4. Parts of Speech.—There are eight parts of speech in the Latin language:

- |                          |                  |
|--------------------------|------------------|
| 1. Substantive, or Noun. | 5. Adverb.       |
| 2. Adjective.            | 6. Preposition.  |
| 3. Pronoun.              | 7. Conjunction.  |
| 4. Verb.                 | 8. Interjection. |

Of these the first four admit of inflection, the last four do not. Inflection is the mode of changing the termination of words to show their relation to other words.

The Inflection of Nouns, Adjectives, and Pronouns is called Declension, that of Verbs is called Conjugation.

There is no article in the Latin language: hence the Latin mensa means not only table, but also a table and the table.

5. Substantives.—The Substantive is declined by Number and Case.

There are two Numbers: Singular and Plural.

There are six Cases: Nominative, Genitive, Dative, Accusative, Vocative, Ablative.

There are five Declensions distinguished by the endings of the Genitive Case Singular: thus,

The genitive of the first declension ends in ae.

"	"	"	second	"	"	i .
"	"	"	third	"	"	is .
"	"	"	fourth	"	"	us .
"	"	"	fifth	"	"	ei .

II.—THE FIRST DECLENSION.

The Nominative Singular of Latin Substantives of the First Declension ends in ā, and the Genitive in ae.

	Sing.		Plur.
Nom.	Mens-ā , a table.	Mens-ae ,	tables.
Gen.	Mens-ae , of a table.	Mens-ārum ,	of tables.
Dat.	Mens-ae , to or for a table.	Mens-is ,	to or for tables.
Acc.	Mens-am , a table.	Mens-ās ,	tables.
Voc.	Mens-ā , O table. [table.	Mens-ae ,	O tables. [bles.
Abl.	Mens-ā , by, with, or from a	Mens-is ,	by, with, or from ta-

All Substantives of the First Declension are Feminine, unless they designate males; as, nauta, a sailor.

[The Declension of Greek Nouns is given on page 28].

*Some General Rules of Quantity.**

1. A diphthong is always long.
2. A vowel is long before a double consonant, or before two single consonants (not a mute and liquid), or j.
3. A vowel is short before another vowel.
4. In declinable words final a is short, except in the ablative of the first declension, where a is always long.

H is not a consonant in Prosody; it does not, with a consonant, lengthen the preceding vowel, nor does it, between two vowels, prevent the shortening of the former.

RULE 1.—A personal verb agrees with its Nominative case in number and person: as, pūella currīt, the girl runs; puellae currunt, the girls run.

* Except where these Rules apply, the quantity will be marked in the vocabularies until other Rules are given; and the student is expected to accustom himself from the start to marking carefully in pronunciation the quantity of every syllable.

RULE 2.—Transitive verbs govern an Accusative case (of the direct object): as, āquīla ālās hābēt, the eagle has wings.

VOCABULARY 1.

f = Feminine.

āla, f. a wing.
āquīla, f. an eagle.
cōlōnia, f. a colony.
cōlumba, f. a dove.
cōrōna, f. a crown.
fēmīna, f. a woman.
filia, f. a daughter.
insūla, f. an island.

mensa, f. a table.
ōra, f. a coast.
pēcūnia, f. money.
porta, f. a gate.
puella, f. a girl.
rēgina, f. a queen.
Rōma, f. Rome (the city).
rōsa, f. a rose.

[Give the Rules for the quantity in the above where the marks are omitted.]

Currit, runs.
Hābēt, has.

Hābent, have.

EXERCISE I.

[The vocabulary should in every case be committed to memory and recited by the pupil before he begins to translate.]

1. Filia currit. 2. Filiae currunt. 3. Regina coronam habet. 4. Puella coronam habet. 5. Filia pecuniam habet. 6. Femina pecuniam habet. 7. Roma portas habet. 8. Coloniae portas habent. 9. Puellae rosas habent. 10. Feminae rosas habent. 11. Columbae alas habent. 12. Insulae oras habent.

1. The woman runs. 2. The women run. 3. The dove has wings. 4. The eagles have wings. 5. The colony has gates. 6. The island has coasts. 7. The girls have money. 8. The women have money. 9. The colony has women. 10. The island has colonies. 11. The woman has a crown. 12. The islands have roses.

RULE 3.—When two Nouns in Latin are connected by the verb "To Be," they are put in the same case: as, Britannia est insula, Britain is an island.

RULE 4.—Of two Substantives, signifying different things, the limiting one is put in the Genitive case: as, Britannia est insula Europae, Britain is an island of Europe.

In this example the words "of Europe" indicate a more limited use of the word island than in the example under the previous rule. This limiting noun is put (in Latin) in the genitive case, whether it stands before or after the other noun.

VOCABULARY 2.

m = Masculine.

agricōla, m.	a husbandman.	incōla, m.	an inhabitant.

SUBJECT AND PREDICATE.

A SENTENCE (from the Latin Sententia, a thought) is the complete enunciation or expression in words of a thought, and consists of two, chief parts, the Subject and the Predicate.

The SUBJECT (from the Latin Subjectum, placed beneath, as the basis, as it were, of the sentence) is that of which something is asserted, which does, is, or suffers something. It stands in the Nominative Case, and is either a substantive or some word or phrase used as a substantive; as, rosa floret, the rose blooms; duo cadunt, two fall; errare humanum est, to err is human.

The PREDICATE (from the Latin Praedicatum, asserted of the subject) is that which is asserted of the subject, and is either a verb, or an adjective, or substantive combined with the verb esse; as, rosa floret, rosa pulchra est, rosa flos est.

The verb esse, when thus used, is called the COPULA (tie or bond), because it binds, as it were, the Predicate to the Subject.

REMARK.—In such sentences as Rosa flos est, rosa is called the Subject Nominative, and flos the Predicate Nominative.

Exception to Rule of Quantity (on p. 7).

Is final is long in Second Person Singular Present Indicative of the Fourth Conjugation; as, audis, and in velis (from volo) and compounds.

The Verb Sum.—Indicative Mood.

XVII.—THE VERB.

Latin Verbs have two Voices:

I. ACTIVE.

II. PASSIVE.

Verbs have four Moods:

I. The INDICATIVE MOOD.

II. The SUBJUNCTIVE MOOD.

III. The IMPERATIVE MOOD.

IV. The INFINITIVE MOOD.

* Begin with qui, leaving the ii till the second clause of the sentence.

Three other forms are derived from and partake of the signification of Verbs :

- I. The PARTICIPLE, which is a Verbal Adjective.
- II. The SUPINE,
- III. The GERUND, } which are Verbal Substantives.

Verbs have six TENSES, three expressing Imperfect, or unfinished action, and three expressing Perfect or finished action :

Imperfect Tenses.

- 1. Present.
- 2. Past.
- 3. Future.

Perfect Tenses.

- 1. Present.
- 2. Past.
- 3. Future.

Obs. The Present-Perfect has also the meaning of an Indefinite Past : thus ămăvi signifies I loved as well as I have loved.

Verbs have two NUMBERS, Singular and Plural, and three PERSONS in each Number.

Latin Verbs are arranged in four classes, called CONJUGATIONS, distinguished by the ending of the Imperfect Infinitive Active ; which in,

- I. The First Conjugation ends in ārē ; { as, ămārē, to love.
- II. The Second   “       “       ērē ; { as, mōnērē, to advise.
- III. The Third     “       “       ērē ; { as, rēgērē, to rule.
- IV. The Fourth    “       “       irē ; { as, audīrē, to hear.

The Present-Imperfect Indicative, the Present-Perfect Indicative, the Imperfect Infinitive, and the Supine are called the Principal Parts of the Verb, because it is necessary to know these in order to conjugate a Verb.

Rules of Quantity.

REMARK.—It is usual to call the syllable or syllables occurring between the verbal stem (as am- in am-are) and the final syllable the verbal increment; thus, in am-o, am-as, there is no increment, but in am-a-mus, am-a-ba-mus, the a and ba are the increment.

[For convenience the Second Person Singular of the Present Indicative is assumed as the standard, and a verbal form is said to have an increment when it exceeds this in the number of its syllables.]

a, in the increment of verbs, is always long, except the first increase of do; as, amāmus, etc.; but dābam, dāre, dābāmus.

o, in the increment of verbs, is long; as, monēre, regēbam, amēris.

EXCEPTION 1.—e is short in the first increase of every Present and Imperfect of the third conjugation when followed by r; as, regere, regērem, regēris.

EXCEPTION 2.—e is short before ram, rim, ro, of every conjugation, and in the termination bēris or bēre.

i, in the increment of verbs, is short; as, amavimus, amavitis, etc.

EXCEPTION 1.—i is long in the first increase of the fourth conjugation when followed by a consonant; as, audire, auditis, audivi.

Remark 1. Verbs of the third conjugation, which form their Perfects in ivi and Supines in itum, have the i of the penult long after the analogy of verbs of the fourth conjugation; as, pelo, petivi, petitum.

Remark 2. On the other hand, verbs of the fourth conjugation, which make the Perfect after the analogy of the third, as venire, veni, follow the rule, and have the i short; as Perfect venimus, while the Present is venimus.

EXCEPTION 2.—i is long in the Present Subjunctive of sum and volō (and their compounds); as, simus, sitis, velimus, velitis.

o is long in the increment of verbs; as, monetote.

u is long in the Future Participle, as recturus; short in sumus and volūmus (and compounds).

THE SUBJUNCTIVE MOOD.

The Indicative Mood speaks of a thing as a fact, present, past, or to be, while the Subjunctive Mood speaks of it as merely entertained by the mind, and dependent on other circumstances. Thus, Dōmum aedificāvi, aedificābo, I have built a house, I shall build a house, as facts; ūt in ēā habītem, that I may dwell in it, the idea or purpose entertained, but not necessarily coming to pass.

The translation of the Subjunctive Mood with may and might is only an approximation to its meaning. Very often it has to be rendered in English by the corresponding tense of the Indicative Mood, as in the whole of Exercise E.

NOTE.—The Rule for the sequence of tenses in the Subjunctive Mood is given on p. 127.

RULE 12.—The Conjunction ūt, that, in order that, and nē, lest, in order that not, are constructed with the Subjunctive Mood.

V. FIFTH DECLENSION.—All are Feminine except dies (mēridies), which in the Plural is always Masculine, and in the Singular either Masculine or Feminine.

Additional Rules of Quantity.

1. A vowel resulting from contraction is long; as, cōgo, from cōdgo.

2. Derivatives follow the quantity of the words from which they are derived; as, nāvālis, from nāvis, etc.

3. Words adopted from the Greek generally retain the quantity of the original; as, Pallās, ādīs, from Παλλὰς, ἀδός.

REMARK.—Sometimes they fall under the ordinary Latin rules, as rhētor, from ῥήτωρ, where the final vowel is short before r final.

4. Compound words generally retain the quantity of the simple words of which they are compounded; as, dēmitto, from dē; quīlibet or quīvis, from quī, etc.

5. Monosyllables ending in a vowel have that vowel long, as ā, dā, mē, prō, tū, etc., except enclitics; as, quē, nē (interrog.), etc.

6. Final a in words that are not declined is long, as frustrā, etc., except itā and quā (also eiā and putā, which do not frequently occur).

7. Final e in words of more than one syllable is usually short; as, temporē, credītē, tristē, etc.

EXCEPTIONS.—In the cases of the First and Fifth Declensions (as Phoebe, diē), in the Second Singular of Imperative of the Second Conjugation (as monē, salvē), in Adverbs in e from Adjectives of the First and Second Declensions (as justē, pulchrē), and in fermē, ferē, ohē, the final e is long.

XXXV.—ABLATIVE ABSOLUTE.

RULE 19.—When a secondary clause contains a different subject from the subject of the principal clause, the Verb in the secondary clause is in Latin frequently changed into a Participle, and agrees with its subject in the Ablative Case. This construction is called the ABLATIVE ABSOLUTE; as, sōlē ortō, Rōmānī hostēs vīdērunt, when the sun had risen, the Romans saw the enemy.

The Latin language possesses no Perfect Participle Active except in the case of Deponent Verbs; hence in English the Perfect Participle Active, which agrees with the subject of the Verb, is in Latin put in the Ablative Case together with its own object; as, Caesār, expōsītō exercītī, ād hostēs contendīt, Caesar, having landed the army, hastens against the enemy.

XXXIX.—DIRECT QUESTIONS.

RULE 24.—Questions are usually put in Latin with the help of Interrogative words or particles; as, Quid agis? What are you doing? Pūtas-nē? Do you think? Non-nē-pūtās? Do you not think?

The principal Interrogative particles are nē, num, utrum, ān. Of these nē is always written as an enclitic, like the Conjunction que. Utrum and an are used only when two alternatives are spoken of; and an always with the second alternative.

Num has a negative force, as Num itā pūtās = You don't think so, do you? and is to be used when the answer No is looked for. Utrum . . . ān may be translated by whether . . . or; as, Utrum sōl ān lūnā mājor est? Whether is the sun or the moon the greater? Nē does not need to be expressed by any English word; as, Visnē? Do you wish? Nonnē pūtās? Do you not think?

XL.—INDIRECT QUESTIONS.

RULE 25.—Indirect Questions are those which are quoted as having been asked, or are dependent upon some word expressing doubt, uncertainty, or wonder, in the former part of the sentence; as, Rōgābo quid factum sīt, I will ask what has been done; Mīrum est quae fūerit causā, It is strange what the reason may have been; Vidēbo num rēdīerit, I will see whether he has returned. The dependent verb is always put in the Subjunctive Mood.

RULE 26.—The Tense of the Verb in the Subjunctive Mood is determined by that of the Verb in the former part of the sentence upon which it depends. (1.) If the Verb in the former clause expresses Present or Future Time, the Verb in the dependent clause is put in the Present or Future Tense Subjunctive. (2.) If the Verb in the principal clause expresses Past Time, the Verb in the dependent clause is put in the Past Tense Subjunctive.

Present and Future Time.

PRESENT IMPERF.	{	Scio quid agās,	I know what you are doing.
		Scio quid egēris,	I know what you have done.
		Scio quid actūrus sis,	I know what you are going to do.

		Sciēbam quid egissēs,	I knew what you had done.
		Sciēbam quid actūrus essēs,	I knew what you were going to do.

		Cognōvi quid egissēs,	I learnt what you had done.
		Cognōvi quid actūrus essēs,	I learnt what you were going to do.

PAST PRESENT.	{ Cognōvēram quid agērēs,	I had learnt what you were doing.
	{ Cognōvēram quid egissēs,	I had learnt what you had done.

The same Rule is applicable to the sequence of Tenses in the Subjunctive Mood universally. See Exercises XXV., XXVI., XXVII., XXVIII. (the Subjunctive Mood.)

N.B.—In single Indirect Questions whether is generally expressed by num, which then ceases to have a negative force. In double Indirect Questions it is expressed either by utrum or -ne.

RULE 27.—Besides ut, nē, and quā (see Exercise XXV., etc.), the Conjunctions quō, that, and quōmīnus, that not, are constructed with the Subjunctive Mood.

1. Ut=that, in order that, granting that, is used to express either a purpose or a consequence; as, ēo ut spectem lūdōs, I am going in order that I may look at the games; accidit ut nōn dōmī essem, it happened that I was not at home.

2. Nē=that not, is used to express a purpose, but not a mere consequence; as, Haec faciō nē mē inimicum tibi putēs, these things I do that you may not think me your enemy; but, sēquitur ut haec nōn vera sint, it follows that these things are not true.

Obs. After verbs of fearing, ut has the meaning of that not, and Nē of that; as, timēo ut dux militēs ē castris educāt, I fear that the general may not lead the soldiers out of the camp; timēo nē dux militēs ē castris educāt, I fear that the general will lead the soldiers out of the camp.

3. Quin is used after negative propositions and propositions expressing doubt; as, dīēs nullū est, quin littēras scribam, there is no day that I do not write a letter; nōn dubito quin vērum dixeris, I do not doubt you have spoken the truth. (See Exercise XXV, C, etc.)

4. Quō is used for ut ēō, and signifies that thereby, in order that, so that: haec lex datā est, quō mālēfici dēterrērentur, this law was given (enacted) that thereby evil-doers might be deterred; portās oppidī obstruxit, quō faciilius impetum hostium rētardārēt, he barricaded the gates of the town in order that he might more easily retard the attack of the enemy.

5. Quōmīnūs, that not, is used after Verbs of hindering, preventing, resisting, etc., and must be frequently translated in English by from and a verbal substantive; as, aetās nōs non impēdit quōmīnus littēras tractēmus, age does not prevent us from cultivating literature.

Gen. Ars puērōs educandī difficilis est becomes

Ars puērōrum educandōrum difficilis est in the following way: (1.) The Accusative pueros is put in the same case as the Gerund educandī; consequently puerorum. (2.) The Gerund educandī is changed into the Gerundive educandus, a, um. (3.) The Gerundive is put in the same case, gender, and number, as puerorum; consequently, educandorum.

Dat. Opēram dāt āgro cōlendō, vating land.

Acc. Ad pētendam pacem vēnērunt lēgātī,	{ embassadors came to seek for peace.
Abbl. Littēris tractandis mens ācūtūr,

Obs. The Gerundive is employed more frequently than the Gerund. The Gerund is chiefly used where an ambiguity would be occasioned by the use of the Gerundive; as, stūdium plūrā cognoscendi, the desire of learning more, rather than stūdium plūrium cognoscendōrum, which would leave it doubtful whether things or men were meant.

m. pl.

XVI. Ubi de ejus adventu Helvetii certiores facti sunt, legatos ad eum mittunt, qui dicerent: Sibi esse in animo, sine ullo maleficio iter per provinciam facere. Caesar a lacu Lemano ad montem Juram murum fossamque perducit. Negat se posse iter ulli per provinciam dare. Relinquebatur una per Sequanos via, qua, Sequanis invitis, propter angustias ire non poterant.

XVII. His quum persuadere non possent, legatos ad Dumnorigem mittunt, ut, eo deprecatore, impetrarent. Dumnorix apud Sequanos plurimum poterat, et Helvetiis erat amicus, quod Orgetorigis filiam in matrimonium duxerat. Itaque rem suscipit, et a Sequanis impetrat, ut, per fines suos, Helvetios ire patiantur.

XVIII. Caesar in Italiam magnis itineribus contendit, duasque ibi legiones conscribit, et tres ex hibernis educit, et in ulteriorem Galliam, per Alpes, ire contendit. In fines Vocontiorum die septimo pervenit; inde in Allobrogum fines, ab Allobrogibus in Segusianos exercitum ducit. Hi sunt, extra provinciam, trans Rhodanum primi.

XIX. Helvetii jam per angustias et fines Sequanorum suas copias transduxerat, et Aeduorum agros populabantur. Aedui, quum se defendere non possent, legatos ad Caesarem mittunt, rogatum auxilium. Eodem tempore Ambarri, consanguinei Aeduorum, Caesarem certiozem faciunt, sese, depopulatis agris, non facile ab oppidis vim hostium prohibere. Item cidit. Reliqui sese in proximas silvas abdiderunt. Is pagus appellabatur Tigurinus: nam omnis civitas Helvetia in quatuor pagos divisa est. Hic pagus Lucium Cassium, consulem, interfecerat, et ejus exercitum sub jugum miserat. Ita, quae pars calamitatem populo Romano intulerat, ea princeps poenas persolvit.

XXII. Hoc proelio facto, reliquas copias Helvetiorum ut consequi posset, pontem in Arare faciendum curat, atque ita exercitum transducit. Helvetii, repentino ejus adventu commoti, legatos ad eum mittunt, cujus legationis Divico princeps fuit, qui bello Cassiano dux Helvetiorum fuerat. Is ita cum Caesare agit:

XXIII. Si pacem populus Romanus cum Helvetiis faceret, in eam partem ituros, ubi Caesar eos esse voluisset; sin bello persequi perseveraret, reminisceretur et veteris incommodi populi Romani, et pristinae virtutis Helvetiorum. Se ita a patribus majoribusque suis didicisse, ut magis virtute quam dolo contenderent. Quare, ne committeret, ut is locus, ubi constitissent, ex calamitate populi Romani nomen caperet.

XXIV. His Caesar ita respondit: Sibi minus dubitationis dari, quod eas res, quas commemorassent, memoria teneret. Si veteris contumeliae oblivisci vellet, num recentium injuriarum memoriam deponere posse? Tamen, si obsides ab iis sibi dentur, uti ea, quae polliceantur, facturos intelligat, et, si Aeduis de injuriis, quas ipsis sociisque eorum intulerint, item si Allobrogibus satisfaciant, sese cum iis pacem facturum.

XXV. Divico respondit: Ita Helvetios a majoribus suis institutos esse, uti obsides accipere, non dare consueverint; ejus rei populum Romanum esse testem. Hoc responso dato, discessit. Postero die castra ex eo loco movent. Idem facit Caesar. Equitatum omnem praemittit, qui videant, quas in partes hostes iter faciant. Qui alieno loco cum equitatu Helvetiorum proelium committunt, et pauci de nostris cadunt. Helvetii audacius subsistere, nonnunquam nostros lacessere coeperunt.

XXVI. Caesar suos a proelio continebat; ac satis habebat in praesentia hostem rapinis prohibere. Ita dies circiter quindecim iter fecerunt, uti, inter novissimum hostium agmen et nostrum primum, non amplius quinque aut sex millibus passuum interesset. Interim quotidie Caesar Aeduos frumentum, quod essent publice polliciti, flagitare. Nam, propter frigora, non modo frumenta in agris matura non erant, sed ne pabuli quidem satis magna copia suppetebat. Eo autem frumento, quod flumine Arare navibus subvexerat, minus uti poterat, quod iter ab Arare Helvetii averterant, a quibus discedere volebat.

XXVII. Diem ex die ducere Aedui; conferri, comportari, adesse dicere. Ubi se diutius duci intellexit, et diem instare, quo die frumentum militibus metiri oporteret, convocatis eorum principibus, quorum magnam copiam in castris habebat, in his Divitiaco et Lisco, qui summo magistratui praeerat, graviter eos accusat, quod ab iis non sublevetur; praesertim quum, magna ex parte, eorum precibus adductus bellum suscepit.

XXVIII. Tum demum Liscus proponit: Esse nonnullos, quorum auctoritas apud plebem plurimum valeat; hos seditiosa atque improba oratione multitudinem detertere, ne frumentum conferant. Ab iisdem nostra consilia hostibus enunciari; hos a se coerceri non posse. Quin etiam, quod rem Caesari enuntiārit, intelligere sese, quanto id cum periculo fecerit; et, ob eam causam, quamdiu potuerit, tacuisse.

XXIX. Caesar hac oratione Dumnorigem, Divitiaci fratrem, designari sentiebat; sed, quod, pluribus praesentibus, eas res jactari nolebat, celeriter concilium dimittit; Liscum retinet; dicit liberius atque audacius. Eadem secreto ab aliis quaerit; reperit esse vera: Ipsum esse Dumnorigem, summa audacia, magna apud plebem propter liberalitatem gratia, cupidum novarum rerum; complures annos, omnia Aeduorum vectigalia parvo pretio redempta habere; propterea quod, illo licente, contra liceri audeat nemo.

XXX. His rebus suam rem familiarem auxisse, magnum numerum equitatus semper circum se habere. Favere Helvetiis propter affinitatem; odisse Caesarem et Romanos, quod eorum adventu potentia ejus diminuta, et Divitiacus frater in antiquum locum gratiae atque honoris sit restitutus. Si quid accidat Romanis summam in spem regni per Helvetios obtinendi venire; imperio populi Romani, non modo de regno, sed etiam de ea, quam habeat, gratia desperare.

XXXI. Quum ad has suspiciones certissimae res accederent, satis esse causae arbitrabatur, quare in eum aut ipse animadverteret, aut civitatem animadvertere juberet. His omnibus unum repugnabat, quod Divitiaci fratris summum in Populum Romanum studium, summam in se voluntatem, egregiam fidem, justitiam, temperantiam cognoverat: nam, ne ejus supplicio Divitiaci animum offenderet, verebatur. Itaque, priusquam quidquam conaretur, Divitiacum ad se vocari jubet; simul commonefacit, quae, ipso praesente, in concilio Gallorum sint dicta; et ostendit, quae separatim quisque de eo apud se dixerit.

XXXII. Divitiacus multis cum lacrimis obsecrare coepit, ne quid gravius in fratrem statueret: Scire se, illa esse vera; sese tamen et amore fraterno et existimatione vulgi commoveri. Quod si quid ei a Caesare gravius accidisset, quum ipse eum locum amicitiae apud eum teneret, neminem existimatum non sua voluntate factum; qua ex re futurum, uti totius Galliae animi a se averterentur. Caesar ejus dextram premit; Dumnorigem ad se vocat; fratrem adhibet; quae in eo reprehendat, ostendit; monet, ut in reliquum tempus omnes suspiciones vitet.

XXXIII. Eodem die, ab exploratoribus certior factus, hostes sub monte consedissee millia passuum ab ipsius castris octo, qualis esset natura montis, et qualis in circuitu adscen-sus, qui cognoscerent, misit. Renunciatum est, facilem esse. De tertia vigilia Titum Labienum, legatum, cum duobus legionibus summum jugum montis adscendere jubet. Ipse de quarta vigilia eodem itinere, quo hostes ierant, ad eos contendit; equitatumque omnem ante se mittit.

XXXIV. Prima luce, quum summus mons a Tito Labieno teneretur, ipse ab hostium castris non longius mille et quingentis passibus abesset, neque aut ipsius adventus, aut Labieni, cognitus esset, Considius, equo admisso, ad eum accurrit; dicit montem, quem a Labieno occupari voluerit, ab hostibus teneri; id se ex Gallicis armis atque insignibus cognovisse. Caesar suas copias in proximum collem subducit, aciem instruit.

XXXV. Labienus, ut erat ei praeceptum (ut undique uno tempore in hostes impetus fieret), monte occupato, nostros expectabat, proelioque abstinebat. Multo denique die, per exploratores Caesar cognovit, montem a suis teneri, et Considium perterritum, quod non vidisset, pro viso renunciasse. Eo die, quo consuerat intervallo, hostes sequitur; et millia passuum tria ab eorum castris castra ponit.

XXXVI. Postridie ejus diei, quod omnino biduum supererat, quum exercitui frumentum metiri oporteret, et quod a Bibracte, oppido Aeduorum longe maximo et copiosissimo, non amplius millibus passuum duodeviginti aberat, rei frumentariae prospiciendum existimavit, ac Bibracte ire contendit. Helvetii, seu quod perterritos Romanos discedere existimarent, sive quod re frumentaria intercludi posse confiderent, itinere converso, nostros a novissimæ agmine insequi ac lacerare coeperunt. Postquam id animum advertit, copias suas Caesar in proximum collem subducit; equitatumque, qui sustineret hostium impetum, misit.

XXXVII. Ipse interim in colle medio triplicem aciem instruxit. Sarcinas in unum locum conferri, et eum ab iis, qui in superiore acie constiterant, muniri jussit. Helvetii, cum omnibus suis carris secuti, impedimenta in unum locum contulerunt. Ipsi confertissima acie, rejecto nostro equitatu, phalange facta, sub primam nostram aciem successerunt. Caesar, primum suo, deinde omnium remotis equis, ut spem fugæ tolleret, cohortatus suos, proelium commisit. Milites, e loco superiore pilis missis, facile hostium phalangem perfrugerunt. Ea disjecta, gladiis districtis in eos impetum fecerunt.

XXXVIII. Gallis magno erat impedimento, quod, pluribus eorum scutis uno ictu pilorum transfixis et colligatis, quum ferrum se inflexisset, neque evellere, neque, sinistra impedita, satis commode pugnare poterant. Tandem vulneribus defessi et pedem referre, et, quod mons suberat circiter mille passuum, eo se recipere coeperunt. Capto monte, et succedentibus nostris, Boii et Tulingi, qui agmen hostium claudebant, ex itinere nostros aggressi, circumvenere; et id conspicati Helvetii, qui in montem se receperant, rursus instare et proelium redintegrare coeperunt.

PHRASE:

Conversa signa } to wheel about and advance.

XXXIX. Romani conversa signa bipartito intulerunt; prima et secunda acies, ut victis ac submotis resisteret; tertia, ut venientes exciperet. Ita, ancipiti proelio diu atque acriter pugnatum est. Diutius quum nostrorum impetus sustinere non possent, alteri se, ut coeperant, in montem receperunt; alteri ad impedimenta et carros suos se contulerunt. Nam hoc toto proelio, quum ab hora septima ad vesperum pugnatum sit, aversum hostem videre nemo potuit. Ad multam noctem etiam ad impedimenta pugnatum est; propterea quod pro vallo carros objecerant.

XL. Impedimentis castrisque nostri potiti sunt. Ibi Orgetorigis filia atque unus e filiis captus est. Ex eo proelio circiter millia hominum centum et triginta superfuerunt, eaque tota nocte ierunt; in fines Lingonum die quarto pervenerunt; quum, et propter vulnera militum et sepulturam occisorum, nostri eos sequi non potuissent. Caesar ad Lingonas literas nunciosque misit, ne eos frumento neve alia re juvarent. Ipse, triduo intermisso, cum omnibus copiis eos sequi coepit.

XLI. Helvetii, omnium rerum inopia adducti, legatos de deditione ad eum miserunt. Qui quum se ad pedes projecissent, suppliciterque locuti pacem petissent, atque eos in eo loco, quo tum essent, adventum suum exspectare jussisset, paruerunt. Eo postquam pervenit, obsides, arma, servos, qui ad eos perfugissent, poposcit. Helvetios in fines suos reverti jussit; et quod, omnibus frugibus amissis, domi nihil erat, Allobrogibus imperavit, ut iis frumenti copiam facerent; ipsos oppida vicosque, quos incenderant, restituere jussit, quod noluit eum locum vacare, ne, propter bonitatem agrorum Germani in Helvetiorum fines transirent.

XLII. In castris Helvetiorum tabulae repertae sunt, literis Graecis confectae, quibus in tabulis nominatim ratio confecta erat, qui numerus domo exisset eorum, qui arma ferre possent; et item separatim pueri, senes, mulieresque. Summa omnium fuerat ad millia trecenta sexaginta et octo. Eorum, qui domum redierunt, repertus est numerus millium centum et decem.

Bello Helvetiorum confecto, totius fere Galliae legati, principes civitatum, ad Caesarem gratulatum convenerunt.

ADDITIONAL RULES OF QUANTITY

(and exceptions to some previous rules).

I. A vowel before another vowel is short.

Exceptions.

1. The vowel e before final i in the Genitive and Dative of the 5th Declension is long; as, dēi.

But in fidei and rei the e is common; in spei it is short.

2. The i in Genitives in ius is to be pronounced long in prose; is common in poetry, except alius, and alterius.

3. The i in fio and its tenses is long, except when followed by er.

4. The a and e are long in proper names in ātus and ēius.

Increments.

II. In the singular Increment of Nouns and Adjectives a and o are long; as, aetas, ātis; soror, ōris.

Exceptions.

1. All words in bs and ps increasing in a or o have the increase short; as, trabs, ābis; ops, ōpis.

2. Names of persons ending in al and ar increase short; as, Hannibal, ālīs; Caesar, āris.

3. The Nouns sal, jubar, lar, par, anas, mas, vas (vādis), and fax also increase short.

NOTE.—Words adopted directly from the Greek, like hepar, etc., retain the Greek quantity in the increment.

4. O is short in the Increment of Neuter Nouns; as, corpus, ōris; and in arbor, memor, bos, lepus, compos, and impos.

III. In the singular Increment of Nouns, etc., e, i, and u are short; as, hiems, ēmīs; lapis, īdis; murmur, ūrīs.

Exceptions.

1. In e. The following Nouns increase in e long: halec, heres, locuples, mansues, merces, quies, plebs, lex, rex, vervex.

(Many Greek Nouns, as tapes, etis, etc., have the e long, but they follow the Greek.)

2. In i. a. The Nouns Dis, glīs, lis, Quiris, Samnis, and vibex increase in i long.

b. All Adjectives in ix increase in i long, and all Nouns in ix, except monosyllables, as nix, piz, etc., and calix, filix, larix, fornix, salix, and varix.

3. In u. a. Words which make udis, uris, utis, in the Genitive from Nominatives in us have u long in the increase.

b. Fur, lux (frux), and Pollux also increase long.

IV. The inseparable prepositions di and se are long; re is short.

NOTE.—Rēfert (where the re is from res) has the e long.

The Rules for Penults and Antepenults, and exceptions to other rules, will not be given here; the quantity must be learned from the Dictionary, and the rules reserved for a more advanced Grammar.
